HANNA URGES ACTION ON LACK OF SCHOOL PLACES

BY JAMES MCCARTHY

NEW Education Minister Michelle McIlveen has been urged to find post-primary places for the many local children left without a school. South Belfast MP Claire Hanna says she's been speaking to parents this week who have been trying to comfort "some really upset kids". She said she'll be continuing to speak with local head teachers to try and find a solution. Ms Hanna added that she will be passing the outcomes of those meetings to the Education Minister. Meanwhile, Minister McIlveen said that she expects many of the affected children to be found places in the coming days and added: "My Department will continue to consider where places need to be allocated, taking into account the needs of individual children." Full story, page 6.
